

Code of conduct for all members and supporters of Milton Keynes Junior Ice Hockey Club

- It is expected that everyone will follow all existing policies, which include (but are not limited to) the Inclusion Policy, Anti-Bullying Policy, Safeguarding Policy and any others from MKJIHC and EIH.
- All club members and supporters must treat property and possessions with care and respect, whether at home or away.
- Respect must be shown to all individuals, including players, match officials, team staff, and venue personnel.
- Members and supporters are responsible for reporting any concerns through the appropriate channels.
- All individuals associated with MKJIHC represent the club at all times and their behaviour should embody the spirit of the game.
- Conduct should be maintained to ensure the safety of oneself and others, taking reasonable precautions.
- Members should act with integrity and be positive role models, promoting the sport's reputation and taking steps to avoid disrepute.
- Parents and guardians are encouraged to support not just their own player but the entire club at training, games and within the organisation.
- Enjoy your participation and experience in ice hockey.
